

London Ashford Airport

Lydd Airport is pleased to announce

Boeing 737-300 Flight Trials Sat 24th February approx 11am

The aircraft will carry out a full approach and landing, missed approach and go-around using the North-East Runway (Runway 21). We would like local residents to listen out and observe for themselves and report their findings accurately to airport representatives who will be waiting to take their calls on the number below.

Trials will adhere to the Instrument Landing Procedure as set by the CAA.

A further example that Lydd Airport can safely and efficiently handle Boeing 737 aircraft with its existing facilities.

London Ashford Airport

Lydd Airport is pleased to announce

Boeing 737-300 Flight Trials
Sat 24th February, approx. 11am

The aircraft will carry out a full approach and landing, missed approach and go-around using the North-East Runway (Runway 21). We would like local residents to listen out and observe for themselves, and report their findings accurately to airport representatives who will be waiting to take their calls on the number below.

For more information on the maintenance, including the number to call on the day.

A further example that Lydd Airport can safely and efficiently handle Boeing 737 aircraft with its existing facilities.

For more information on the airport, call
Customer Services Team
01797 522411